1. Final task assignment

The theme is "Emotions" which is defined by the intense emotional state in front of a situation, which generates a physical reaction.

A competition like the Abilympics makes all the people present on the site feel strong emotions, as well as the contestants, the supervising teams, the judges or the public. That's why the reportage must show as many emotions as possible which must be clear on the images and on the faces of the people photographed.

Six basic emotions have been determined: joy, anger, sadness, fear, disgust and surprise.

- Joy: pleasant and deep emotion of satisfaction and intense happiness.
- Anger: strong emotion of discontent, frustration that can be accompanied by aggressiveness.
- Sadness: painful emotion that causes grief, melancholy caused by a loss, an accident, a suffering.
- Fear: emotion that accompanies the awareness of a danger, a threat or a loss.
- Disgust: emotion that expresses disgust, repulsion, rejection.
- Surprise: emotion provoked by an unexpected information or event.

Contestants can make black and white or color photographs according to their choice. They will select 6 photographs of their report and they will perform the post-production of these 6 photographs using Photoshop and/or Lightroom software installed on the computers at their disposal. They will give each photograph a title in English, specifying the emotion present in the image. Each contestant will choose one of these 6 photographs, print it on A4 photo paper, and stick it on a white mat frame provided, respecting the size of its opening so that the image is edge to edge. This photograph will be presented during an exhibition that will take place on Day 2.

Contestant should give a special consideration to the title of the image that will be displayed at the exhibition.

At the end of the event, they will submit their work to the jury for grading.

Expected:

- A USB key containing the 6 photographs renamed according to the chosen title, in .jpg format in 30x45 cm and 300 dpi as well as a Word file containing the title in English of the photograph that will be exhibited (Font: Arial, black, size:12).
- The selected photograph, printed and framed with the supplied mat.

2. Allocated time: 6H00

The contest duration is 6 hours 00 minutes. Contestants will have to manage their time in order to be able to complete the entire task while respecting the schedule and working hours of their group. The schedule will be in two stages, one for the report and one for the post-production and printing.
